

The Tobacco Problem!

Those best posted on the tobacco situation have agreed that smaller crops and better quality is the only solution to the problem. What you raise make it good and you'll get a good price no matter what the conditions. You can't raise good tobacco without good plants and good plants can be grown only under Canvas in these days, plentiful in bugs, flies and changing temperature. By a fortunate purchase before the rise in cotton we are able to offer the same prices on Canvas as we had last year, although cotton is twice as high:

Poor Quality, 1 1-4 cents,
Fair Quality, 2 cents,
Good Quality, 2 1-2 cents,
Better Quality, 3 cents,
Very Best Quality, 3 1-2c.

BAPTIST BANQUET.

Nearly Two Hundred Guests Present Last Night.

Brilliant Orators Make Eloquent And Witty Speeches Till a Late Hour.

The banquet to the men of the Baptist church was one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever attempted in the city, despite the inclemency of the weather.

Covers were laid for 180 persons and there were few if any vacant seats at the tables. The tables were arranged in four rows running from east to west, with a shorter table across the west end of the room for the speakers and members of the program committee.

The guests assembled in the main auditorium until the hour for the banquet to begin, when the rolling partition was raised and all took their seats at the tables, which were beautifully arranged and decorated by the ladies, who were in the adjoining rooms, directing the corps of waiters.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Chas. H. Nash, presided as toastmaster and called upon Prof. Edmund Harrison, of Bethel Female College, who invoked divine blessing.

The banquet was then served in courses, being arranged to occupy about one hour.

The literary program was then inaugurated by Dr. Nash with a brief speech of welcome to the assembled guests. This was responded to by Mr. Lucian H. Davis on behalf of the members of the church.

The early hour at which the Kentuckian went to press prevents a more extended notice in this issue. The following speeches were made in the order given.

"The Girl and the School," by Rev. T. T. Eaton, D. D., editor of the Western Recorder.

"Boys and Birds," by Prof. W. H. Harrison, President of Bethel College, Russellville.

"Benevolent Orders," by Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville.

"Organized Philanthropy," by Dr. Milton Board, Superintendent of the Western Asylum.

"Olympian Games and Modern Athletics," by Prof. H. Clay Smith, of South Kentucky College.

"The Yankee of the Orient," by Hon. Newton W. Utley, of Eddyville, who was at one time a missionary to Japan.

RIPE IN YEARS.

Mr. George T. Blakey Succumbed To Pneumonia.

Mr. George T. Blakey died at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. T. W. Blakey Tuesday. A short while before he received a fall that confined him to his bed, and later contracted pneumonia, which was the cause of his death.

Mr. Blakey was 83 years of age and was born in Logan county. Most of his long and useful life was spent in that county. He was a man of prominence and high standing, being a leader of the Republican party. He was at one time elected sheriff, overcoming by his popularity a large Democratic majority. He was also a delegate to the National Convention in 1880 and was one of the 306 Grant men who held out until Garfield was nominated.

Mr. Blakey came to this city to live with his daughter two or three years ago and had made many friends who mourn his death.

He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. His venerable widow and three children survive him—Capt. Wm. M. Blakey, of Evansville; Mr. George D. Blakey, of Tulsa, I. T.; and Mrs. T. W. Blakey.

The body was taken to Logan county and interred Wednesday.

OHIO MOB

Lynches a Kentucky Negro In Regular Texas Style.

He Had Killed a Policeman and The Jail Was Stormed.

Springfield, O., March 8.—An enraged mob of nearly 1,000 men last night battered down the doors of the jail and lynched Richard Dickinson, of Cynthia, Ky., a negro who shot and killed Patrolman Charles Collins yesterday. The jail was thought to be impregnable, but the infuriated mob used railroad irons on the heavy doors successfully. When inside the sheriff and his deputies surrendered in face of such a superior force and the negro was taken to the jail yard and shot to death. The body was then taken to the corner of Main street and Fountain Avenue and hanged to a telephone pole, when the mob spent a half hour in riddling it with bullets fired from several hundred revolvers.

GOOD MAN DEAD.

Mr. John M. Dulin's Useful Life Is Ended.

Mr. John M. Dulin, one of the best known Democrats and citizens of North Christian, died at his home near Crofton Wednesday night, about seven o'clock. He had been prostrated for three months with tuberculosis of the throat.

He was born October 15, 1842, on the farm where he died, being the sixth child of a family of nine born to Mr. and Mrs. Rice Dulin. He was married Nov. 4, 1863, to Miss Mary E. Rice, of Hopkins county. Five children were born to this union, but only two survive—Mr. Charles M. Dulin, of Dawson Springs, and Mrs. David Bourland, of Crofton. Other surviving relatives are Van Dulin, of Springfield, Tenn, his brothers, and three sisters, Mrs. Lou West and Mrs. Robinson, of Hopkinsville, and Mrs. Fields Rice, of Madisonville.

Mr. Dulin had been a very prominent man in his section of the county for many years. Possessing a strong intellect and a retentive memory, he was wonderfully well informed on county history and the stirring incidents in which the early settlers, of whom his father was one, figured a century ago. He had held several positions of honor and trust, and his official duties were always well and faithfully performed. His last public office was supervisor of county roads, and no man in the county was more familiar with the roads than he. He had for years been a member of the Democratic county committee and represented his precinct up to the time of his death. In 1900 he was the guide for the first "Band Wagon" ever used in a Kentucky campaign, which traversed the remote sections of the county, where a band of music had never before been heard. This idea, of which he was one of the originators, has since been adopted with great success in many parts of the State.

In his death the county has lost a citizen who left his impress upon its history, who died as he had lived, loved and respected by his fellowmen and whose example in all things was worthy of emulation. He was a member of the Christian church and his funeral was preached at two o'clock yesterday by Rev. W. B. Wright. The interment took place at the Clark burying ground.

ROUND PRICE

It is reported that a Hopkinsville firm has bought several crops of tobacco in the vicinity of White Plains in the last few days, a round price of 5 cents per pound having been received by the growers. It is a fine grade of tobacco.—Hustler.

COULDN'T TALK.

Governor Beckham Could Only Answer Questions.

Believed the Governor Intended Making Charges Against Members of Board.

Frankfort, Ky., March 8.—Gov. Beckham, Auditor Hager and Secretary of State McChesney, who constituted the old printing board, appeared before the senate committee to investigate the printing contracts this afternoon. The board declined to permit Gov. Beckham to make any statement except to the interrogations put to him. He was interrupted in the middle of a sentence by Senator Carroll and told that he was expected to answer only the questions put to him. It is thought that the governor was preparing to make certain charges against a senator sitting on the board in reference to the printing companies. The committee will finish its work tomorrow and will make a report. Gov. Beckham said this afternoon that the different departments made their own printing contracts. It is believed that the committee will report that there has been negligence on the part of the board in letting contracts. Gov. Beckham was informed that the present committee was not the proper one to hear his charges against a member of the committee.

The committee to investigate the charges of bribery will make its report tomorrow. Nothing has been confirmed in the report of the bribery in the Louisville Herald.

IN COUNTY COURT.

Wills of Mrs. Walker and Mr. Boales Probated.

The will of Mrs. M. J. Walker was probated Monday. All of her property was bequeathed to her daughters. Miss Brent Walker, one of her daughters, was named as executrix. The instrument was dated Dec. 28, 1903.

The will of A. G. Boales was also probated this week. To his widow he left the portion of his estate as allowed by law and the rest goes to his four children. The residence is to be used as a home for the family until the youngest child becomes of age. Mr. M. D. Boales is named as executor.

HEART FAILURE

HOT DEBATE

Between Senators Cantrill and Campbell.

Book Measure Finally Put to Sleep By the Senate—No More Night Sessions.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—The discussion over the Campbell amendment to the school book law was very bitter between Senator Campbell and Cantrill, and consumed most of yesterday's session of the State Senate. The body refused to take the bill from the orders of the day, thus practically killing it. The House passed the bill appropriating $40,000 for completing the cellhouse at the Edwylville penitentiary and appropriating $36,000 for improvements at the Frankfort penitentiary. A number of bills of minor importance were passed. The House decided to hold no more night sessions.

Gov. Beckham yesterday signed the bill known as the Louisville "Ripper Bill," giving the Mayor of Louisville the authority to appoint and remove members of his executive board.

The investigation in the Printing matter will close to-day and a report will be made to-morrow.

TOBACCO NEWS.

Good Sales of Loose Weed and Receipts Increasing.

The sale of loose tobacco on the floor by R. M. Wooldridge & Co. this week was again heavy. There was no change in prices from last week's quotations. The tobacco offered was mostly of inferior quality. Loose receipts have improved greatly in the past few days and another large sale is promised for next week.

There were 41 hogsheads sold privately this week and receipts amounted to 60 hogsheads. This makes total receipts for the year, 110 hogsheads. Sales for the year 553 hogsheads.

Mr. T. E. Bartley received a telegram yesterday informing him of the death of his mother, Mrs. Matilda J. Bartley, wife of Mr. W. O. Bartley, at her home near Orange, Va. She was stricken with paralysis about four years ago and had since been an invalid. The deceased was about 70 years of age and is survived by a husband and five children.

She was a sister of Mr. W. G. McGehee, of Gracely, Ky., and the late Albert McGehee, of Simpson county.

BACHELORS CLUB.

The Organization Already Has a Large Membership.

"Friendship For All, Entangling Alliances With None" is The Motto

Just to preserve what they consider their right to do what they will with regard to the "happy state of connubial bliss," the bachelors living in Milwaukee, Wis., have organized a club known as the Ancient and Accepted Order of Peace Loving Bachelors.

The purpose of the organization is to fight all leap-year proposals.

The constitution declares:

1. The name of the club.
2. The purpose of this organization shall be to protect all members of this club from all written, spoken, suggested or implied proposals or hints of marriage or interferences from any spinster or grass widow that she has an "affinity" for any club member, or any hint, interference or suggestion either open or covert that either a "cozy corner" or a hammock "built for two" would be a good place to while away an hour or so "in the gloaming."

3. In any of the contingencies referred to in Article II. of this constitution shall arise in this year's life of any member of this club, whether active or honorary, the club as a body, shall lend its entire aid, assistance, and, if need be, financial help, to freeing said member from such attentions or entangling alliances.

4. Failure of any member to report any such occurrence in his life shall subject said member to a fine not more than $200 nor less than $10, according to how good looking the woman in the case may be, and to imprisonment in the grillroom for 30 days without a single highball.

5. Grass widows and widows shall be eligible to membership upon payment of twice the amount of the initiation fee, but they shall be accordingly given double protection in view of the fact that they are thought to be more susceptible to the charms of wooing and wooers. The motto of the club shall be "Friendship For All, Entangling Alliances With None!"

The club already has a large membership.

A Labor Leader's Wife.

Mrs. Alice Northrup is the wife of the editor of the Quincy Labor News, Quincy, Ill., and is a woman whose devotion to the interest of labor is well known. She makes the following unsolicited statement regarding a well known medicine: Pepsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill. Gentlemen—I have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for more than a year for constipation and indigestion, and consider it a most superior remedy for such ailments. As a laxative it is not only palatable, but has no griping or nauseating effect, but is very mild.

Yours truly,
MRS. ALICE NORTHROP.

SALARY GRAB.

Washington, March 1.—Senator Gallinger today introduced a bill increasing the salaries of the executive officers of the government, and also of senators and members of the house of representatives. The bill which provides the new salaries shall take effect March 4, 1905. The bill fixes the following scale: President, $75,000; Vice-president, $15,000; Speaker of the house of representatives, $12,000; Members of the cabinet, $15,000 each; Senators and members of the house, $8,000 each.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.

They Are Hopkinsville People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.

When an incident like the following occurs right here at home, it is bound to carry weight with our readers. So many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, are published as facts, people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is rapidly disappearing. This is due to the actual experience of our citizens, and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such evidence as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skeptic to stand on.

John J. Hasford, cooper, of 766 East 9th St., says: "My back used to be so lame and sore at times that when I bent it was all I could do to straighten up again. The pains were always with me, and I could not stand for any length of time without feeling them. I doctored at one time but did not obtain the slightest benefit. My attention was called to an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I determined to try them. I got a box at Thomas & Traher's drug store, and after using them a few days could not help but notice a marked improvement in my condition. My health is better now than it has been in years. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills, and strongly recommend them to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price 25 cents. Foster-McBirn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I sleep soundly every night. Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, coughs, colds and grippe over its matchless merit for all that and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at R. C. Hardwick's drug store."

PRAYER BEFORE SPANKING.

Recommended as Impressive Adjunct to Corporal Punishment.

I was a teacher for many years before the rod was prohibited and an well-satisfied that corporal punishment is "in g" for republican boys. A New Yorker, writing to the editor of the Sun, the best teacher I ever had in country school, one who ruled the great mass of his pupils by tact and love, had to use the rod occasionally. If the present day schools fail to turn out well-disciplined scholars—girls or boys—it is due to the absurd prohibition of corporal punishment.

But as "Old Timer" says of Dr. Anthon's discipline, it is wise to invest the ceremony with solemnity. The rod should never be applied in anger. That is sure to defeat the object and no doubt is the chief cause of its prohibition by law. Only in extreme cases should punishment be inflicted on the instant—so to speak. Make such an investigation as is necessary to be sure that discipline is proper, and then appoint a time for it, at least a day later, when any passion that the offense may have caused will be allayed by time and sleep, and when the culprit will have no other feeling than dread of the ordeal. The interval between the time of the offense and the execution of the sentence will promote repentance and disarm needless severity. Under such circumstances the culprit will believe, if ever, that the punishment is inflicted for his good and for a sense of duty.

If the teacher is, as he should be, a praying Christian, it is well to precede the ceremony by a brief prayer. It will do no harm and may be great good. The boy must be "tough," indeed, who, after a day or two of meditation on his offense and the coming penalty, the latter preceded by an earnest prayer in his behalf, can go through it all and not be softened into repentance and humility.

"Old Timer" speaks of Dr. Anthon's use of the rattan for bad boys. The rattan is not to be recommended—it is too much like a wire. The old time schoolmaster's flat "rod," made of oak or maple, is better, far better. If the youth is not large, the best mode, so far as my experience goes, is to put your foot on a stool or bench and lay the culprit across your knee, and then apply the ruler to the seat of his understanding. If he howls and kicks, no matter, the pain will soon subside, and in case the ruler leaves an imprint it will be only temporary. Besides, the boy will not be in haste to show it to his father to arouse sympathy—nor to anybody else, it will be "no closed incident."

Occasionally a boy disciplined in this or some other way will vow to take vengeance on the teacher "when he gets big," but when that time comes he looks at the matter in a different light, and is more apt to thank than to try to "kick" his old master. Such vengeance talk depends chiefly on the thoroughness of the flogging. Few boys will indulge in it who are thoroughly mastered by a judicious teacher. Byron, in "Don Juan," canto II, gives this advice:

Use that teach the harem youth of nations: Holland, France, England, Germany or Spain, then, flag them on a fustian—'t makes their morals, never mind the pain.

For the word "all" in the third line substitute "just," and the advice is good.

Famous Stamp Collection.

The magnificent collection of postage stamps belonging to the trustees of the British museum in 1891 by the late Mr. T. K. Tappin, M. P., can now be seen in its entirety by the general public. The very rare and highly valuable stamps will be shown only on special application and under certain conditions, but they do not amount to many, probably about 100, including such philatelic treasures as a pair of the famous "post office" Mauritius stamps, valued at something like £3,000. A specimen was lately sold in France for £1,500.

The insurance companies have been hard hit this year. They lost in January $21,790,200 and in February, including the Baltimore and Rochester fires, $90,051,000. During February there were 288 fires, destroying more than $10,000.

Capt. Algeon Sartoris, a grand son of Gen. U. S. Grant, has gone to Paris to wed Miss Jeanne Cecil Noufflard, a noted French beauty. In order to do so he was recently received into the Catholic church. Capt. Sartoris resigned from the army in 1903 and now lives in Washington.

The Legislature, which started out with such a working record, has neared the end with all sorts of unpleasant rumors in the air. It is safe to say that more reputations have been injured than benefited in political circles by the developments of the last two months. The General Assembly will adjourn Tuesday, leaving a bad smell in Frankfort and causing a sigh of relief all over the State.

The boldness of the Mormon leaders in declaring one after another, in the Smoot inquiry, that they are polygamists with from two to five wives each, is creating a profound impression throughout the country. Smith, Lyman, Merrill and others high in the councils of the church, have made boastful admissions of their views and practices, the object being to give them the widest publicity in the Congressional Record. Whether Senator Smoot loses his seat or not, there is bound to be a sentiment created against Mormonism by the disclosures of the inquiry that will force Congress to enact more stringent legislation against polygamy.

The Porter Educational Bill is one of the measures passed by the present legislature that will mark a forward step. The Henderson-Gleason says of this author: "Senator J. F. Porter, of Webster county, has made his district a faithful and intelligent representative in the Senate of Kentucky. He has not been as conspicuous as some with his mouth, but has gone along in his quiet, unassuming way and attended to his duties and looked out for the interests of his people. He was the author of the bill to extend the term of common schools of the State to six months in the year, which has passed both houses and has been signed by the Governor and is now a law of the State. This bill will be a monument to his memory and will be of incalculable benefit to the rising generation of the State. Senator Porter is a sane, conscientious, progressive man and his party and people will have further use for him, we predict."

POKES FUN

At Rolling Stock of the Cadiz Railroad.
An old time coach was received at the Illinois Central shops Sunday to be repaired. It came from the little Cadiz railroad.
The coach is a combination car, having three apartments, one for white passengers, one for colored passengers and the latter for baggage. The seats are constructed solely of wood and the car is a very dilapidated piece of mechanism. It was one of the first passenger coaches ever made in the South.
The Cadiz railroad is about ten miles long, extending from Cadiz to Gracely, Ky.—Paducah News-Democrat.

GEN. KING'S NEW BOOK.

Thrilling Romance of the War of the States.

Gen. Chas. King will have out a new novel from the press of The Hobart Co., 114 Fifth Avenue, New York, about March 15. It is called "A Knight of Columbia."

In this charming and romantic novel, Gen. King seems to have surpassed all previous efforts. The hero, a graduate of Columbia College, first meets the reader in the Academy of Music, New York City, on the occasion of Commencement Day, in 1861, at the breaking out of the war. His magnificent speech, "A Menace to the Flag," delivered on that occasion, full of the fire of patriotism, created the most intense excitement, the vast audience expressing their approval or otherwise according to their political preferences, for as yet the question of "which flag" was unsettled in the hearts of many. Then comes his enlistment, and he is fully launched on the troubled seas of those stirring times. His varied fortunes are closely followed, both in love and war, there being two fervent love stories running through the entire book. The plot is intricate and exciting, holding the reader in a tense grasp from start to finish. The historical scenes of battle are depicted in a manner worthy of this talented author, who now tells for the first time "the truth about Chancellorsville," exonerating the ill-fated eleven corps from the odium that has all ways been heaped upon it, thus fully contradicting previous accounts. This alone will be of great interest to soldier and also to civilians. The atrocities of the mob during the draft riots in New York comes in for stirring descriptions, and altogether the story is one "to warm the cockles of the heart" and arouse the healthy and vigorous enthusiasm that we all enjoy.

Bickers' Shoe Store.

Who Made His Escape When Door Was Opened.

When Mr. J. T. Charlton, the Durrett avenue grocer, locked up his store to go to supper Tuesday night he also locked up a thief, who had secreted himself in the building before the door was closed. On the return of the proprietor to the store he found a negro in the act of breaking open the cash drawer. When the man saw the merchant he ran out and escaped. Mr. Nixon's bloodhounds were called into action in a short while, but no arrest has been made as yet.

What is Life?

Never Saw One of His Children.

A genuine Yankee having borne a new-comer with every conceivable question relative to his object in visiting the gold country, his hopes, his means, and his prospects, at length asked him if he had a family. "Yes sir; I have a wife and six children and I never saw one of them." After this reply the two sat a few minutes in silence then the inquisitive man began again: "Was you ever blind, sir?" "No sir." "Did you marry a widow, sir?" "No sir." Another interval of silence. "Did I understand you to say, sir, that you had a wife and six children living in New York, and had never seen one of them?" "Yes, sir, I so stated it." Another, and a long pause. Then the Yankee recommenced: "How can it be, sir, that you never saw one of them?" "Why," was the reply, "One of them was born after I left."

BOLD ADMISSION.

Apostle Lyman Will Not Cease Practice of Polygamy.

Evidence Shows that the Mormon President Can Nullify Famous Manifesto of 1890.

Washington, March 9.—The star witness before the Senate committee investigating the right of Reed Smoot to a seat in the Senate yesterday afternoon, was a blunt-spoken, red-whiskered man, Francis M. Lyman, president of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon church, and the man chosen to be the successor of President Smith. Lyman admitted that he was a polygamist; that he had three wives, with two of whom he was still living; and that he expected to continue regardless of the law of the land or the rules of the church. His father had six wives and his earliest recollections embraced the life of polygamy, hence he has known nothing else and has felt that it was correct.

Will Disobey Laws.

When Senator Hoar asked him: "You, as an apostle of the church, expecting to succeed Mr. Smith in the presidency, and in that capacity to receive divine revelations yourselves, confess that you are now living and expect to continue to live in disobedience to the law of the country, the law of your church, and the law of God?" he firmly answered: "Yes."

Lyman admitted that five of the twelve apostles were polygamists, and that, despite the manifesto of 1890, the president of the church could issue authority upon an edict to perform plural marriages.

After much effort, a statement was obtained from the witness that he thought Senator Smoot was acquainted with the general reputation and accepted report that Mr. Lyman was living in polygamous cohabitation with his plural wives.

Merrill Family Numerous.

Charles F. Merrill, son of Apostle Merrill, while on the witness stand, when asked regarding his family said he had two wives, one of whom he had married since the manifesto of 1890; that his father had six wives and that he had twenty brothers and seventeen sisters and more than 100 nephews and nieces. He said his father lived with his first wife and seldom visited his (witness's) mother more than once a month. Three of his brothers, he said, had plural wives and two of his sisters have married into polygamous families.

STRONG HIT.

Alma Powell Scores in a Drama Now Being Presented at One of the New York Theaters.

Miss Alma Powell is the second Princeton girl to score on the New York stage, the other one being Miss Margaret Sayre, who made a metropolitan debut as a star a week ago.

A telegram from New York says: That one does not have to appear at the Broadway theaters to make a hit and be talked about is proved by Miss Alma Powell, a handsome young Southern woman, who is appearing in W. W. Taylor's scenic melodrama, "If Women Were Men." Miss Powell plays the role of a Southern society lady to whom fate has been unkind and when she first took it she was of the opinion that the part might be realistic. But the opposite was true and Broadway will see Miss Powell before long in drama.

Miss Powell was born at Princeton, Ky., and comes of old stock. When a child she took delight in church entertainments, and when she got into long skirts, devoted much of her time to amateur theatricals. Eventually she came to New York, where she took a two years course in a dramatic school.—Madisonville Hustler.

Charged With Abduction.

Clarksville, Tenn., March 9.—Betie Daniel, col., has been brought back to Clarksville from Hopkinsville, Ky. She is accused of having abducted a young girl named Sue Skelton for the purpose of prostitution. She will be held to the Criminal Court. The girl who was abducted was brought back home.

NOW READY.

T. C. Railroad Appoints St. Louis Freight Agent.

Traffic Manager Hinton Announces That the New Road is Now in Good Shape.

Traffic Manager E. H. Hinton, of the Tennessee Central Railroad, announces the appointment of E. J. Dowdall, of St. Louis, as general Western agent of the road, the appointment to be effective on April 1. He also announces the appointment of W. A. Beatty, of St. Louis, to be Southwestern Freight Agent of the road with headquarters at St. Louis. Mr. Dowdall will also have his headquarters at St. Louis and will have general supervision of the Tennessee Central's traffic in the West. He will have under his direction, three assistants: A Soliciting Freight Agent to travel in Northern Illinois, with headquarters at Chicago; a Traveling Freight Agent with headquarters at St. Louis and territory in Southern Illinois, and Mr. Beatty. The latter will travel in Arkansas, Texas and the South.

In appointing Mr. Dowdall, the Tennessee Central establishes for the first time its office in St. Louis. The step is significant of the intention of the road to enter aggressively into competition with other lines for freight.

Traffic Manager Hinton said this morning with regard to the new move:

"We are rapidly getting into first-class condition. We have a through continuous service between Nashville and Hopkinsville, with regular established freight schedules. We are going after business actively and aggressively."

"Our extended terminals in Nashville will soon be completed and the purpose of our outside agents is to make these terminal facilities in Nashville and business along the line generally available to the fullest possible extent."

The Tennessee Central will build up its already large business to the North and will establish itself as a distributor to Southern and Western points.

E. J. Dowdall, the new General Western Agent, is a young man of considerable experience in the work he will take up. He was formerly connected with the Illinois Central in St. Louis, and was at the time of his appointment by Mr. Hinton, soliciting freight agent for the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, which position he had held for some years past. He is looked on as one of the most successful freight gatherers in St. Louis, and is eminently fitted to hold the responsible position to which he has been appointed. His headquarters will be in the Chemical Building, which is located in the heart of the business section of St. Louis and contiguous to other railroad headquarters.

Mr. Beatty, his Southwestern soliciting agent, was formerly general freight agent for the Tennessee Central in Nashville and is a successful, practical railroad man. The position of general freight agent was abolished when Mr. Hinton was made traffic manager of the road.—Nashville News.

ONE CENT A MILE.

A rate of one cent a mile plus 25 cents has been made for the benefit of those who will attend the Confederate veterans reunion which will be held in Nashville June 14-16. This rate will hold good on the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, the Louisville & Nashville and Tennessee Central roads and refers to points east of the Mississippi river. It is thought the same rate will be made for those who want to visit the World's Fair at St. Louis from this point, immediately after the reunion.—Nashville News.

Indian Skeleton.

Clarksville, Tenn., March 9.—W. F. Ford, of the Port Royal vicinity of this county, reports having unearthed a well-made Indian grave that contained a skeleton in a state of perfect preservation. The grave was made of solid slabs of stone, and the skeleton of a man presumably an Indian, was found upon the removal of the top.

That the marketing of Tobacco on the open markets by concentrating the demands, will bring better results to sellers, is self-evident truth. Public meetings, stenographers, typewriters and their offspring "Resolutions," cannot better conditions. But united determination on the part of planters to offer their Tobacco on open markets to the highest bidder will bring face to fact every known demand for Tobacco. Help us to sell your tobacco for good prices by patronizing open market's. It stands planters in hand to think of this.

JUDAH BENJAMIN'S FAREWELL

It is One of the Most Notable Addresses of the "Senate"

Thomas R. Martin, a lawyer of Washington, D. C., who is associated with his brother, Henry M. Martin, in compiling the farewell speeches of United States senators from the southern states during the war of secession, is in the city to gather all obtainable data concerning the life and career of Judah P. Benjamin, one of the greatest statesmen that ever represented Louisiana in the senate chamber, the only attorney general of the confederacy and one of the most distinguished lawyers of two continents, says the New Orleans Picayune.

Of all the vast quantity of matter that has been published about the civil war the farewell addresses of the United States senators from the south have never been given to the public, and that is what the Messrs. Martin intend to do.

"In going through some old documents in the congressional library recently," Mr. Martin said, "I found the farewell speech of Judah P. Benjamin, delivered at the time he surrendered his senatorial commission. Charles Sumner pronounced it the greatest speech delivered prior to the war. When Mr. Benjamin concluded his address there was not a dry eye in the senate chamber. Judah P. Benjamin was preceded in delivering his farewell address by John Slidell, who retired from the United States senate on the same day.

"A most interesting fact in connection with this is that these speeches have never appeared in print and we are devoting a great deal of time and labor to getting them together.

"All the addresses of that day were of a sensational character. We find another striking example at the address of John C. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, who delivered a speech full of pathos and breathed his sympathy for the confederate cause. Just as Breckinridge was drawing to a close Senator Baker, of Oregon, entered the senate chamber. Baker was then a general officer in the union army and he had just come in from the field of battle. When Breckinridge concluded Baker, attired in full uniform, took the floor. He placed his saber on his desk and addressed the president of the senate. His opening utterance was sensational and it at once arrested the attention of the audience and held spellbound both the floor and the gallery. He began: 'Mr. President, the senator from Kentucky is uttering words of treason under the very dome of the capitol.'

CURIOUS ECHOES.

One Place Where a Pistol Report Is Repeated Sixty Times.

The suspension bridge across the Mount straits, in Wales, produces one of the most remarkable echoes in the world, says Stray Stories. The sound of a blow with a hammer on one of the main piers is returned in succession from each of the crossbeams which support the roadway, and from the opposite pier at the distance of 575 feet, in addition to which the sound is many times repeated between the water and roadway at the rate of 28 times in five seconds.

An equally remarkable echo is that of the castle of Simonetta, about two miles from Milan. The report of a pistol is repeated by this echo 61 times.

A singular echo is also heard in a grotto near Castle Chamber, in Ireland.

In the garden of the Tuileries, in Paris, is an artificial echo, which repeats a whole verse without the loss of a single syllable.

Another wonderful echo is heard outside the Shipley church, in Sussex, which echoes some 20 syllables in the most perfect manner.

The well-known echo at Woodstock repeats itself no fewer than 50 times. In one part of the Pantheon so great is the echo that the striking together of the palms of the hands is said to make a report equal to that of a 12-pound cannon.

WAVE OF DARK TRESSES.

Maquany the Modish Color for the Hair—Ringlets Again.

Happy, these days, is the woman with a luxuriant head of hair, for not in many years has the fashionable coiffure been so elaborate, says the New York Sun.

On the other hand, unluckily is she of the scanty locks, inasmuch as it may cost from $75 to $100 to supply the deficiency. It happens that just at the very time when false hair is urgently in demand it has become remarkably scarce, and therefore remarkably dear. This is especially true of the curly or wavy kind, which alone is wanted for the newer coiffures.

It is quite impossible, it seems, for even the most noted hairdressers to predict precisely what the leading coiffure for the winter will be, for the reason that there is bound to be always more than one style to the front and also because the New York fashionable woman is capricious and to some extent a law unto herself. As a leading New York hairdresser remarked, with a resigned air:

"In France the hairdressers make the styles, and even the smartest women conform to them, whereas in New York the hairdressers arrange coiffures at the dictates of their customers.

"Of course," he admitted, "every winter is sure to bring some new feature, for instance, like the up hoisted pompadour, as we called it, which had an astounding vogue in all circles, from the kitchen to the drawing room, inclusive, and the pronounced loop over one eye arrangement that came later and took well, though it made even a refined woman look almost like a clown."

"As it happens both of these styles have been pushed into the background by a newer, prettier, more becoming modification of the pompadour, which is fluffy, soft and mounted not over a stiff hard roll, but on an airy, fairy support, stiffer, but hardly heavier, than a network of natural hair.

"And this is not pulled down over the brow, but rolls back naturally, except for a stray lock or two which are permitted to curl downward if the forehead is very high. The very newest of these pompadours is perched on one side—a style that gives a remarkably chic look to some women. Other women, though, would better let it alone."

Just now the most up-to-date New York coiffure is really a combination of a compromise between the low English and the high French coiffures, both of which this year are distinguished by an absence of stiffness and a lot more hair than usual. Some Americans like the French model, others favor the French, many try to combine the two by using several switches or crimping the hair to make it appear twice as thick as it really is.

Just now young girls affect the low twisted coiffure, and some of them just back from a trip abroad are wearing the English bun—a round wave of hair built over a cushion of soft wool which completely covers the nape of the neck, but without a net over it.

Naturally the French hairdressers here won't admit for an instant that the bun is likely to become fashionable, for, say they, it is becoming to only very young women. Few women over 25, they add, look well in a low coiffure, anyway.

Other hairdressers, not French, get over this difficulty by explaining that there will be no unbecoming gap between the bun and the front hair, but that the two will be connected by soft puffs and oblong jeweled pins. Moreover, they predict that the bun coiffure will be much in evidence at the opera this winter because of its elaboration.

But bun or no bun, it seems to be pretty generally settled that an elongated coiffure covering the back of the head almost from ear to ear and down to the neck will take the place, even for evening wear, of the nutty, high model which for many years has been especially in evidence for full dress occasions. Even the more conservative of the French hairdressers now in New York admit this at the same time declaring that a moderately high coiffure may be adopted without putting one's self in the ranks of the old fashioned.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Willingham Damage Suit Against The Asylum.

Argument Will Begin Today—Other Court Matters of Interest.

The damage suit of P. M. Willingham, administrator, against the Western Kentucky Asylum for $25,000 damages was begun Tuesday and has occupied the time of circuit court ever since. A decision is expected to day. The suit grows out of the death of James Y. Willingham, son of P. M. Willingham, who was a patient in the asylum until September 1, 1902, when he died. It is alleged in the petition, from injuries received by bathing him in scalding water. He lived about two weeks after the alleged burning and when he died there were burned places on his body and limbs that it was claimed caused his death. Dr. W. W. Ray, former superintendent, was made a party to the suit, but his connection with it was demurred out of court.

Clint Elliott, who was attendant on the ward in which Willingham was kept, was the chief witness for the plaintiff. He testified that he was absent on other duties at the time and that an assistant named Benjamin was in charge and that the bathing of the sick man was done by patients on the ward. Dr. Edwards, of Sebring, one of the doctors who held a post mortem examination after the dead man's body was sent to Sebring, was also a strong witness for the plaintiff.

The taking of testimony has occupied about three days and the speaking will probably begin today. James Breathitt for the plaintiff and Chas. H. Bush for the Asylum are attorneys in the case.

Found for Defendant.

Thro' Kentucky.

Thro' that grand state of Kentucky, Where the "Old Home" got its name,

Where the fields are overflowing With the yellow ripening grain,

Here tobacco plants are growing, In the fields not sown with corn,

Tobacco plants—big as cactus— Just as sure as you are born.

Yes, they're large as good-sized cactus, Larger in our home like view,

But it's of as fine a grade as 't that old "Kentucky Dew"

Here all people reap a harvest, Money in bank from year to year.

All the green calamity howlers, Lose their jobs when they land here.

Here the "dry" ways are the highways, Built high and dry from rains and flood.

Here the "good roads" delegation, Swear the roads are suitably good.

But of pikes and highways finest, There's a "road" that suits my taste:

'Tis the line of Solid Comfort, And the trains let no time waste.

From St. Louis thro' Kentucky, Operates this road of class,

Across the famous old "Green River"

On its roadbed smooth as glass. Would you know what road I speak of?

Listen then to my advice, For you'll need it in your business, On your trip to Paradise.

In your travels thro' Kentucky—Hustle; beat them under the wire. "Get the Henderson Route habit!" 'Tis a good one to acquire.

—JACK "HENDERSON" GALLAGHER.

TOBACCO BUYERS.

French Consul Michel Herrmann Says France Wants Kentucky Products.

Two commissioners appointed by the French government are on their way to Louisville to purchase Kentucky tobacco for use in France. Michel Herrmann, the French Consul in Louisville, received a letter from the Consul General of France informing him that the commissioners would arrive in a few days.

They will have the authority to purchase as much tobacco as they think advisable. It is likely that the tobacco trust will have a lively competitor in the market for the product of Kentucky's tobacco field. Should the experiment prove a success a permanent purchasing agent will be stationed in Louisville.

ACME OF ALL.

The Original Billy Kersands And His Georgia Minstrel

Kersands's Georgia Minstrels this season is larger, better and greater than ever and embraces some of the best known names in the Minstrel world. The usual daily street parade will be made as near the noon hour as possible. A free concert by Jas. S. Lacy and his challenge solo band 7:15 in front of the theater.

Nothing has been left undone to make it the greatest of all minstrel aggregations now before the American public, headed by the original and only Billy Kersands the best known minstrel star in America.

The Memphis News says of the aggregation.

"The announcement that Billy Kersands was to appear at the Auditorium Theater last night at the head of his own Georgia Minstrels was sufficient to pack the house from pit to dome. The line began to form at 6 o'clock in the evening and when the doors were thrown open shortly after 7 o'clock there was a scramble for admission. When the curtain went up every seat was occupied and the aisles of the immense house were literally packed."

For years Billy Kersands was featured with the Georgia Minstrels where he always made good, and in his venture at the head of an organization of his own he has collected a troupe that gives a really enjoyable entertainment for both black and white people.

In two respects the Kersands Minstrels excel any other negro troupe that has appeared in Memphis. It has been far the best orchestra and the costumes are exceptionally attractive. Again there are some really good voices, and the olio presents some entertaining features. Kersands furnishes much of the fun himself but he is assisted by Sam Cook, Oscar Cameron, David Smith, Kid Langford, Ben Jones all of whom are good in their way. Ben Jones and Kid Langford are exceptionally clever."
